

UNDERSTANDING YOUR ELECTRICITY BILL

VCE SOURCES YOUR CLEAN ENERGY. PG&E DELIVERS IT.

One bill. Cleaner energy.

There are two parts to your electricity service: generation and delivery.

VCE buys cleaner electricity, PG&E delivers it, and you get the convenience of a single bill from PG&E. Your electricity bill includes VCE's generation charges separately from PG&E's delivery charges.

VCE's generation charges are NOT an added fee; they only replace PG&E's generation charges.

As a VCE customer:

- Your bill includes both VCE's generation and PG&E's delivery charges.
- PG&E does not charge you for electricity generation, and there are never any duplicate charges.
- PG&E charges for electricity delivery, which includes maintaining the lines and providing billing services.
- You receive a credit on your bill from PG&E for electricity generation.
- CARE, FERA, and Medical Baseline Allowance program customers still receive a discount, and it appears on the delivery charges section of their bill.

SAMPLE BILL

- 1Customer Account Number
You will need this number when upgrading to VCE UltraGreen or opting out of VCE service.
- 2PG&E Delivery Charges
PG&E charges you to deliver electricity over their existing transmission lines and to maintain infrastructure. This includes other fees to support customer service and billing.
- 3VCE Generation Charge
This charge covers Valley Clean Energy’s cost of purchasing clean electricity for customers.
- 4Total Amount Due
The total amount you pay to PG&E includes their service and VCE’s, for your convenience.
- 5Your Electric Charges Breakdown
This summary of charges includes electric generation, distribution and other fees and taxes that fund regional or statewide programs, such as assistance and efficiency rebates.
- 6Service Agreement ID
A service agreement documents your arrangement with PG&E. For customers with multiple meters under a single PG&E account, each meter will have a unique Service Agreement ID number.
- 7Generation Credit
Since you are purchasing generated electricity from VCE instead of PG&E, you are credited back this amount by PG&E. There are no duplicate charges.
